Rafael Mendez to Appear In Annual Spring Concert

Rafael Mendez, considered by many to be the world's foremost trumpeter, will make two appearances at Santa Ana College next week, including an appearance as guest soloist at the Spring Concert.

Appearing with Mendez will be the SAC choir and chamber band. The choir, under the direction of James Vall, will contain 45 voices, while the band, under the direction of Elmer Ramsey, will contain 30 pieces.

The concert is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. this coming Wednesday evening in Cook Gymnasium. Price for the event is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children and students. Tickets are available from the college ticket office or Shafer's Music House.

The appearance of Mendez is being co-sponsored by the college and Shafer's.

The annual music program will feature varied numbers and special effects by the band and choir.

On Tuesday, at 3:30 p.m. in Cook Gymnasium, Mendez will lecture and demonstrate the art of brass playing, a free clinic designed particularly for college, high school, junior high, and elementary students of Orange County schools. After discussing brass instrument problems, he will answer questions.

Mendez comes from a musical family of 15 in Mexico, was accomplished as a trumpeter at the age of five and, at six, became a camp follower of General Pancho Villa, who enjoyed Mendez's playing. Later Mendez played in circus bands, came to the United States to study and play, and became successful in radio, concert, and motion picture work. He has also made guest appearances at the Hollywood Bowl.

Dons Win Awards In Speech Tourney

Santa Ana College captured three second place awards in the second semester Eastern Conference Speech tournament last Tuesday.

The tournament, held at Chaffey College saw Santa Ana awarded second in men's oral interpretation, and second in both men's and women's oratory.

Receiving the second place award in men's oral interpretation was Robert Teuscher, while Sydney Engstrom was awarded second in women's oratory. Second place in the men's oratory was won by Jack Gueswelle.

Teuscher and Engstrom were repeated winners from the first semester contest. Teuscher previously placed second in men's oratory and Mrs. Engstrom first in women's panel discussion.

Santa Ana's entry was under the guidance of SAC speech instructor Ted Hallahan.

Others attending were Pat Fleming, Judy Camblin, Marie Putignano, Bill Thomas, Chuck Alexander and Jim Fabian.

After the winners were announced, Santa Ana filed an official complaint because neither written nor oral critiques were offered by the judges.

Luncheon, Panel, Assembly Highlight of Religious Week

By Michelle Morris

Sounds of music broke through the stillness of a spring sky this week; heralding the annual Religious Emphasis Week at Santa Ana College.

Carrillon bells toll at the interim between classes during these days. On Tuesday, April 11, they summoned students to a luncheon in the student union lounge where Dr. Roy McCall, President of the College of the Desert, discussed "The High Cost of Good Living."

One of the problems of our day, Dr. McCall stated, is "a great conflict in ideologies." He stressed the importance of developing "maturity, balance and perception in making value judgments, for life is a process of choice making."

Atheism and materialism are very much with us, was Dr. McCall's admonition. "There are temptations on all sides," he said. "You should live a life so clean that you can look back on every chapter of it without shame, and with a kind of humble pride in what you are."

Wish Expressed

At the outset of his speech, Dr. McCall expressed this wish: "I have come here to talk. You are here to listen. If you get through before I do, let me know." In the opinions of student and faculty listeners, Dr. McCall finished first.

Rev. John Shetler of St. Anne's Catholic Church in Santa Ana gave the invocation, and Cantor Harvey Goldstein sang a moving hymn to close the program.

Panel Discussion

Dr. Karl Christ from a Presbyterian church in Tustin moderated the panel on world religions Wednesday, April 12. In his introduction, Dr. Christ stressed that all major religions have borrowed elements of other religions.

Yasumi Katakura, SAC coed from Japan, spoke on the origins of Buddhism in the Orient, and Ertugrul "Arthur" Dalkiran discussed Islam in the modern world. A question and answer period followed. Dr. Christ asked the two foreign students about the effects of their religions on modern-day life in their respective countries.

Religious Emphasis Week closed yesterday with a student assembly in Phillips Hall. Pastor Willis E. Moerer from the Church of the Master was the guest speaker. Invocation was given by ASB president Larry Wentzel. A SAC choral group provided music for the assembly.

Associate Deans Agnes Todd Miller and William Corser headed the planning group for the week's events. Religious Emphasis Week is an annual event.

Annual SAC J-Day To Honor Kuchels

Senator Thomas H. Kuchel and his family will be honored at the SAC Eighth Annual Journalism Day, Thursday, April 20.

Public and private Orange County schools are co-operating by sending their top journalism and yearbook students to the event. Approximately 400 will register at the Publications Center until 1:45 p.m. Refreshments will be served and students may view journalism exhibits on display.

Workshops and Assembly

Each delegate will attend two of the workshops which range from reporting and editing to photography. Workshop hours are scheduled between 1:45-4:00 p.m.

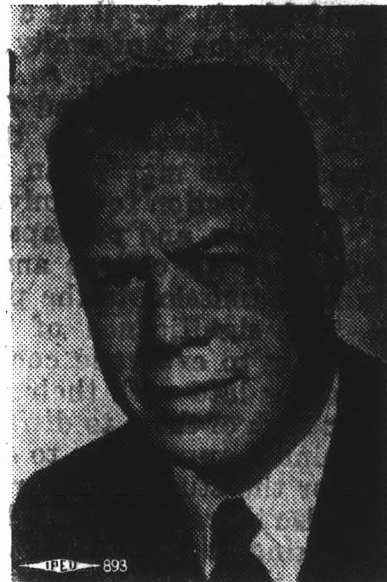

Climaxing the Journalism Day will be an Awards Assembly in Phillips Hall at 4:15 p.m. USC School of Journalism Director John H. McCoy will present the Alumni Achievement Award to Vic Rowland, Public Relations director for Fuller, Smith & Ross, Los Angeles.

Thomas Murphine of the Newport Harbor News Press will receive the same award from Carl Venstrom, SAC Journalism Chairman.

Awards and Banquet

Sixty journalism awards will be given to outstanding high school students. Recognition goes to the best newspaper, yearbook, and individual story entries. Two $50 scholarships will be awarded.

Honored guests at the SAC Press Club Banquet that evening are Mrs. Henry Kuchel, widow of the blind editor of the Anaheim Gazette, and her two sons, Senator Thomas H. Kuchel and Theodore Kuchel, co-publisher of the Gazette. The Banquet will be held at the Penthouse Executive Club, 6:30-9 p.m.

SENATOR KUCHEL

Senator Kuchel To Address Dons Next Thursday

Senator Thomas H. Kuchel will address an assembly in Phillips Hall on April 20 at 11:00 a.m.

For many years publishers of the Anaheim Gazette, the Kuchel family will honor new members of the Orange County Journalism Roll of Honor. Senator Kuchel will be accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Henry Kuchel, and brother Theodore Kuchel.

Senator Kuchel will present a fifty-star American Flag which flew over the capitol to replace an earlier flag which he donated years ago. The large flags are used on ceremonial occasions.

Born in Anaheim, Senator Kuchel attended the University of Southern California, returning to practice law in 1935. He was a member of the California State Assembly from 1937 through 1940. Senator Kuchel served as controller of the State Assembly in 1946, holding this position until 1953.

Kuchel has represented California as a United States Senator since 1953. He will fly from his duties in Washington D. C. to attend the assembly.

Senator Kuchel will later address guests of the SAC journalism department at a dinner to be held at the Penthouse Executive Club.

The Senator's father, Henry Kuchel, was famed as a rural editor with a wide acquaintance among political figures and important people. He was a boy of 11, helping crank the hand press when the Gazette was founded in 1870 and later purchased the paper from his family in 1877.

Women Vie For Faculty Scholarship

Santa Ana College Faculty Scholarship Committee has nominated three Santa Ana College women as candidates for the annual Altrusa Club of Santa Ana $100 scholarship.

Sophomore candidates include Sydney Engstrom, Yasumi Katakura and Barbara Berman.

Three candidates from Santa Ana College, Chapman College and Orange Coast College are selected each year to vie for the scholarship. One winner from each school is selected after an interview at a special "Get-Acquainted" Dessert April 28.

Candidates for the scholarship are selected on the basis of career plans, responsibility record, personality, communicative skills and scholarship standing.

The three top winners will be honored by the Altrusa Club May 18.

A Reminder

Like the rest of Southern California, Santa Ana College students are going through that distinctive period of mental laxity which is so common at the debut of the spring season.

Spring is the time of the year when classes are cut, text books are taken to the beach, and there is a general tendency to "put things off."

In fact, procrastination reigns supreme.

But the student whose ambitions for higher learning compel him to enroll at a university or four-year college must overcome conformity. There are two important reasons for this.

Obviously, first and foremost is the resulting grade marks which accompany the "natural letdown" of spring—grades that may mean the difference between acceptance or rejection to a university.

Secondly, and perhaps just as important, is the actual choosing of the college and the filling out of the application for admission to the preferred school.

The significance of the latter item is evident immediately to everyone concerned, yet each year students are either late with their applications or they do not fill out enough of them to different schools. The rejection of a last minute application to one school often comes back too late for the student to enroll elsewhere.

Also there is the problem of transferring credits. Are you taking the correct classes required in lower division work at the college or university of your choice?

The correct courses completed plus an acceptable grade point average will qualify a student for admission to his preferred school—if he has the foresight to be punctual with his application.

Postscripts

Dear Editor:

In response to your article in Council Comments, April 7, I would like to say a few words in defense of my position.

The objective of the motion was to secure the support of the council to back me in the approval of AS purchase orders over $50.

This was not a spur of the moment idea; Larry Wentzel, Lloyd Hamilton, and I deliberated on the subject for several weeks, reaching a compromise on the $50.00 minimum. I felt, and still feel, that disbursement of AS funds should be checked by an AS officer, as our constitution intends.

Tom Trego
ASB Treasurer

Dear Editor:

Student activities on any college campus are a vital part of college life.

Lack of attendance at student assemblies is a disgraceful example of no appreciation of these activities.

Of course there are legitimate excuses for not attending the assemblies sometimes, but when three-fourths of the students are so involved in other activities that they cannot attend assemblies, something is wrong.

Let's all take advantage of the opportunities offered to us and acknowledge our appreciation by attending the assemblies.

BARB'S WIRE

Versatility Key To Rellstab's Life

By Barbara Berman

(Editor's Note: This is the tenth in a series of articles spotlighting campus personalities.)

Cool, rushing waters of the High Sierras beckon the fishing talents of a very versatile Santa Ana College instructor each summer and this year will be no exception.

Isabelle Rellstab, physical education instructor, has developed the hobby of fishing, enjoying casting for trout "even though I am not always sure where the line will hit."

Hobbyist

Fishing is just one of the skills of Miss Rellstab who proves her versatility through leatherwork, jewelry making, playing bridge, reading and working in the yard.

"I really have to brag about one hobby in which I engaged. I managed to plant a perfect dichondra lawn," Miss Rellstab smiled.

Versatile Instructor

The women's PE instructor sports her versatility on campus, too, when she instructs classes in social dance, modern dance, folk and square dance, rhythm activities for elementary teaching majors, WAA, orientation, and counseling students in her "spare time."

"I've taught every sport at the college except golf which I've found just isn't my forte!" she winked.

Hockey Player

In the professional world of sports, Miss Rellstab enjoyed playing hockey with the now disbanded Los Angeles Field Hockey team.

Businesswoman

And to add to the versatile talents of Miss Rellstab in the sports world, she owned and managed a swimming school in Balboa for seven years working with all ages.

"It would scare me half to death when one of my students, who was a spry 70 years old, took a mouthful of water!" she exclaimed.

Miss Rellstab's mother takes an avid interest in her daughter's talents when she's not busy baking Scotch pastries.

"My mother was born in Scotland, but we sure Americanized her in a hurry," Miss Rellstab smiled.

Another counseling appointment was in order for the busy instructor, so without further ado she closed the "pages" of her life, returning to another phase of her versatile work.

Phillips Hall Serves All As SAC Cultural Center

Could it be that you consider Phillips Hall as merely an auditorium used for assemblies and drama productions?

Those familiar with the $300,000 building on the east edge of the SAC campus will tell you differently. The auditorium is just a portion of the elaborate edifice, completed in 1957.

Drama Department

Several portions of the Hall are invaluable to the drama department, such as the scene shop used for construction, painting, and storage of scenery.

There is a costume room for design and construction of costumes, and a storage area over the lobby for non-current costume storage.

Facilities for Actors

The Green Room is provided for actors, visitors, and those who are awaiting their stage cues. Lee Ford, Speech and Humanities division chairman, and Robert Blaustone, drama and speech instructor, have their offices adjoining the Green Room.

Dressing rooms with rest-room shower facilities are another important asset to Phillips Hall.

Music Department

The music department also has indispensable sections in the building. The orchestra and choral rehearsal room is acoustically treated, and has sound booths for use in making recordings.

There are individual practice rooms, a music library, offices for music instructors, and storage areas for music scores, uniforms and robes.

Then there is room C-7, well known to speech students, which overlooks SAC's children's center.

Main Auditorium

Now for the auditorium itself. Capacity is 486, and each seat provides a good view of the stage.

The elaborate draperies and curtains were once used at the West Coast theater in Santa Ana. The large orchestra pit can be utilized for musical productions, and anteprosenium lighting permits the use of a hidden catwalk across the auditorium ceiling by lighting aides.

The foyer with bulletin boards and rest rooms completes the details of the building.

Phillips Honored

Phillips Hall is named for the late Ernest Crozier Phillips, longtime drama instructor and one-time dean of men at SAC. He was a protege of the famed Polish actress, Mme. Helena Modjeska. Phillips enjoyed a successful stage career after the turn of the century before joining the college faculty.

The building was the third in the major building program that gave SAC Cook gym, Hammond Hall, Nealley Library, the graphic arts wings, and the vocational shops area.

Dr. Brooks To Speak on World Of Science

Dr. Walter Brooks, Santa Ana College Physics professor, will address the adult seminar on Tuesday, April 18, at 11:15 a.m. at Kim's Restaurant in Santa Ana. Dr. Brooks will speak on "The open vistas of the world of science."

Dr. Brooks stated that, "On one hand, technology has made a number of leaps forward—even to the capacity to extirpate life on this planet. At the same time, scientists are realizing more fully than ever how inadequate and incomplete is our knowledge—even in the physical sciences."

"Thus, there are vistas of exciting, dimly seen, new horizons everywhere about us in the world of science. And the world of science is also becoming more aware that science and religion are two complimentary and essential aspects of our being and nature."

All students or faculty interested in hearing Dr. Brooks please contact Sydney Engstrom of Mary Hayden.

The adult seminar group holds luncheon meetings on the third Tuesday of each month to hear and discuss topics of wide interest to college students.

Rotanas Invite Dons To 'Citizen' Contests

SAC's Rotarian Club, now re-forming on campus, invites all students to enter their first project of the year, "The Good Citizenship Contest."

This essay and speech contest offers $300 in cash prizes. The sponsors of the contest, the downtown Rotarians, have designated a committee to judge the first part of the contest (the essay) on the basis of brevity and conciseness without sacrifice of definitive value.

All entering students will submit a definition of a good citizen, which must not exceed one page of typing, double spaced. The winner of this essay will receive $100 cash award and the twenty runners-up will receive $5 each.

Those interested in entering the second part of the contest (speech) will be given a copy of the winning essay to base a ten minute talk on which should express the need of good citizenship on campus and the community. Awards are first place $125, second $50, third $25.

The contestants for the speak-off finals at a Rotary meeting will be chosen by SAC instructors. May 23, is the tentative date set for the runoffs.

Campus Rotanas welcome all full time students to their meetings to obtain further information. Meeting dates will be posted in the El Diario.

SAC Deans to Attend Spring Conferences

"Pursuit of Excellence in Education," is the theme for the spring meeting of the Southern California Junior College Association to be held tomorrow at Chaffey College.

Among those attending from SAC are Thomas Trawick, Dean of Students and William Corser, Associate Dean of Students.

With "New Ideas For A New Decade," as the theme of the conference, the California Association of Women Deans and Vice Principals will convene at San Mateo on April 20. Representing SAC at the conference will be Associate Dean of Students Agness Todd Miller.

Five Delegates Will Attend State Meet

State delegates to the conference being held in May were selected by secret ballot in last Tuesday's student council meeting.

Council Comments

By Carol Shipe

SAC student council performed before a packed gallery last Tuesday as ASB Treasurer Tom Trego gave the "sad" news that the associated students budget for the 1960-1961 had been spent.

To date, according to Treasurer Trego, the following accounts do have balances assessed as; assemblies and rallies, $32.20; social, $506.98; AMS, $299.68; AWS, $86.14; ICC, $146.04; publicity, $142.09; freshman class, $7.34; and sophomore class, $103.57.

Main business before the council concerned the election of state conference delegates by secret ballot. Mike O'Sullivan, Don Forney, Joan Litrich, and Jim Davis will attend the meet with ASB Prexy Larry Wentzel leading the delegation.

However, half of the 18-member council will be represented at the bi-annual meet. Barbara Berman and Angie Corpus will be working in the production room with supervisor Kay Black, and Marie Churchill will attend as state secretary.

Final business before the council involved try-outs for next year's song and yell leaders, flag twirlers, and majorettes. Try-outs are set for May 29, beginning at 3:00 p.m. Practice sessions will be held from 3:00 to 5:00 the preceding week.

SAC Alumni Given Honors at OCSC

Two former Santa Ana College students, now attending Orange County State, have recently received honors on the OCS campus.

Art Johnson has been named editor of the first Orange County State College yearbook.

Barbara Sutherland, 1959 SAC homecoming princess, has been elected vice-president of the OCSC Associated Women Students by a unanimous vote of the Titan women.

Spikers Pack To Coast For Rugged EC Contest

Santa Ana College spikers travel to the Orange Coast home grounds today to test the Pirate cinder strength after rolling over San Bernardino last Friday afternoon.

Don Swimmers Meet Mounties For EC Battle

Swim coach Myrel Moore sends the Santa Ana College aqua team to Riverside today for a three-way meet with the Tigers and the Mt. San Antonio Mounties.

The meet should decide the third place team in the conference standings. Both the Dons and the Mounties will be hoping to knock each other out of the running.

Santa Ana is currently in second place behind Orange Coast and Fullerton who are tied for first.

The Dons were downed last week by College of Sequoias, 62-39 in a non-conference match. Freshman Bob Widoe continued to lead the Don splashers as he captured first place in the 100 yard freestyle. Alan MacAuley took the only first place for Santa Ana as he came in first in the 440 yard freestyle.

noon.

The Orange Coast meet will be the toughest match for the track squad this season, since the Dons suffered their first loss of the season at the hands of Mt. San Antonio.

Santa Ana dumped the Indians by the wayside, 80-50 Friday behind the performances of field events stars Ben Bryant and Dave Ascher. The two weightmen controlled the shot put, discus and javelin events.

Bryant remained undefeated in conference action in the shot put events as he tossed the 16 pound shot, 47-7 to capture first place.

Pole vaulter, Paul Thoryk turned in his best performance of the year to coach John Ward. Thoryk sailed over the pole vault bar at the 13 foot level Friday afternoon.

The Pirates will be led by hurdler Ron Stomp against the Don forces today.

Stomp, who won both the high and low hurdles races against Fullerton, came within five tenths of a second of cracking the national record in the low hurdle race with a 23.1 clocking. He is considered one of the best hurdlers in the junior college ranks.

Other Dons contributing to the victory over San Bernardino were John Hustwick winner in the 880, Kent Soldan in the high jump and the mile relay team composed of Buddy Ross, Bob Flescher, John Hustwick and Jack VanderKnyff.

Also expected to garner points for the Dons are hurdler, Dave Nunez, distancemen Dick Jones and John Hustwick.

Mt. SAC Hands Linkers Loss To Take First

Santa Ana College golfers were knocked out of the running for first place in the conference race Monday afternoon when the Mt. San Antonio link team scored a 24-16 victory.

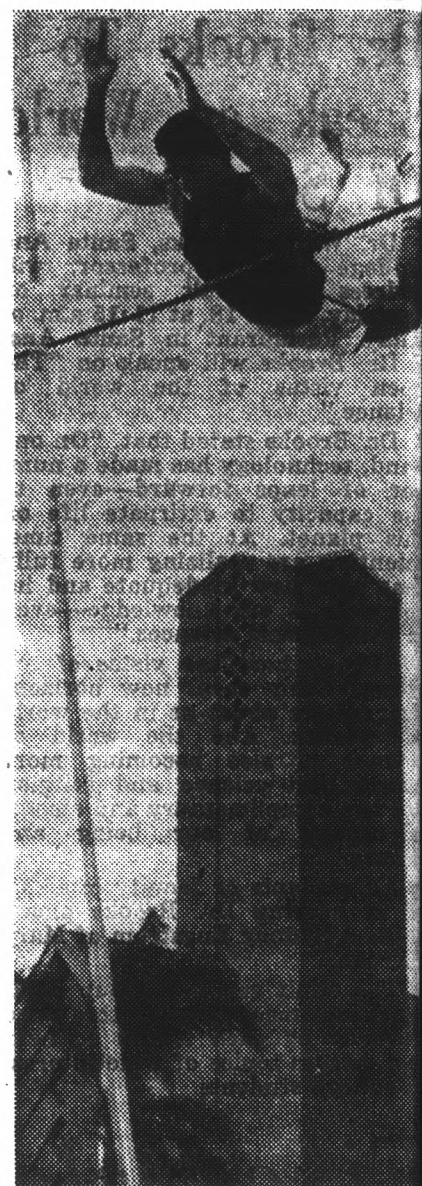

Ed Cleveland shot a one under par score of 73 for the Dons but failed to pull SAC out of the hole. Walt Wilson shot the course with a 79 score for the second top score.

Santa Ana overpowered San Bernardino, 38-2 in the three way meet which was held at the Arrowhead Country Club.

The Dons meet Fullerton Monday afternoon on the Hornet's home course, in their Conference outing.

Team scores for the Dons against Mt. SAC was John McGlone 81, Walt Wilson 79, Ed Cleveland 73, Tom Newcomer 83, Dennis Dietl 88, and Bruce Beatty 83.

Mt. SAC also downed San Bernardino, 36-24.

NOT QUITE leaping buildings in one bound, but easily clearing 13 feet is Santa Ana College pole vaulter Paul Thoryk. Thoryk sailed over the 13 foot level last Friday against the San Bernardino Indians.

Dons Fall to Tigers in 10 Innings; Travel to Coast

Santa Ana College baseball team slipped down another rung on the Eastern Conference ladder Tuesday afternoon as the Riverside Tigers slipped past the Dons, 5-4, in a 10 inning contest on the Tiger field.

Coach Roger Wilson sends his squad to the firing line again today when the Dons travel to Orange Coast for a tilt with the defending state champions.

Nosed Out

The Dons were nosed out by the Tigers in the bottom of the tenth inning when Riverside tallied two runs against relief pitcher Stan Proctor.

Santa Ana had a 3-1 lead going into the final ninth stanza, but allowed the Tigers to push two runs across the plate to send the game into extra innings.

Run in Tenth

The SAC horsehider came back with a run in the top of the tenth inning, when first baseman Dennis Channing came across the plate on outfielder Bob Foreback's sacrifice fly.

All-Conference third baseman Bernie Young was the bright spot for Santa Ana at the plate, as he exploded for two hits and three RBI's. Young sent the Dons ahead with a two run triple in the first inning.

Orange Coast, the defending champions, have gotten off to a rocky start in the conference race this season as they have had their record marred by two losses. Last year the Pirates went from the conference championship to the State Junior College Baseball Championship.
